Limitation and disclaimer of warranty.

Except as herein above set forth, manufacturer makes no warranty of any kind, express or implied, and the limited warranty herein above set forth is expressly in lieu of any warranty and representations, express or implied, and all other obligations or liabilities on the part of the manufacturer. If without limiting and notwithstanding the foregoing, any warranty shall be found to exist beyond the limited warranty here-above set forth, any such additional warranty shall be limited in duration to the terms of the repair or replacement warranty provided for herein without application of extended warranty.

Limitations of remedies.

Water activities are, by their nature, hazardous. Users of the manufacturer's products assume all risk and liability whatsoever resulting directly or indirectly from the use of such products, whether used singularly or in combination with other equipment, including all risk of bodily injury or death and whether arising in contract or tort or otherwise and specifically including incidental, special and consequential damages. Remedies for breach of contract arising by implication or operation of law, except as otherwise provided herein, are excluded. Your boat should only be operated within government legal limits as to maximum capacity ratings as stated on the boat.

Maintenance and storage

- 1- Hull & seats. Under no circumstances should any part of the boat, specifically including the bottom thereof, be waxed or painted or cleaned with solvents. A mild detergent and tap water should be used to clean the boat. Do not handle the boat in extremely cold temperatures. Your boat should be stored in a covered area when not in use to prolong the life of the boat.
2. Inflatable dinghy tube. For long term or winter storage rinse the boat tubes with a mild detergent and tap water. Store the boat in a safe, clean and dry place. To prolong the life of the boat tubes avoid storing it in direct sunlight and contact with sharp or abrasive objects. If you store the boat with the tubes inflated, release some air pressure so the tubes are not inflated at maximum.
